

"P. A." spells tobacco all over the world

Men of all tastes take to Prince Albert pipe and cigarette tobacco like it just about answers all questions! And it does! Quicker you get on speaking terms with this national joy smoke the sooner you'll get a whole lot off your mind. Because, it just hands you more fun than you ever got out of a pipe or makin's cigarette before. The patented process fixes that—and removes the bite and parch.

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

is the one brand of tobacco you can take liberties with, firing away 24-hours straight without a tongue-kick! You get the

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Here's the latest member of the "old-time jimmy-pipe" club. It's a fine likeness of John E. Bach, 101 years old, of Newark, N. J. He has been a pipe smoker for 80 years. Mr. Bach, who enjoys his smoke every day, gives this line of a long life. "Smoke all you want, eat all you want, sleep all you want—and don't worry!"

P. A. is sold everywhere in tippy red bags (handy for cigarette smokers), 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors—and—that classy crystal-glass pound humidors with the sponge-moistener top that keeps P. A. bang up.

Life With An Inspiration.

Stick to your dream, boy. Let nothing serve you from the path that leads upward toward the fulfillment of your life's ambition.

You will meet with difficulties and discouragements, but when you do, just think of the man, Herreshoff, the boat builder, who died the other day in Rhode Island. In his life you ought to find inspiration enough to lift you over any obstacle.

A writer in one of our exchanges says that when John B. Herreshoff was a boy his ambition was to design and build the fastest boats in the world. He became blind while yet a boy. That would have discouraged any ordinary boy, for how could a blind man design a model that he could not see? But Herreshoff was no ordinary boy. He stuck to his dream. The heavy handicap of blindness only made him press on all the harder.

The blind boy sat in eternal darkness and whittled out his boat models. Gradually there developed in his fingers a muscle sense that was worth more to him than eyesight would have been. Slipping the model of a boat through his hands he could tell how it should be shaped to slip through the water with the least resistance. Other designers figured out their models by complex mathematical calculations. But the blind boy felt with his sensitive fingers, and his models were the best, for when he was twenty-four years old he built the fastest yacht the world has ever known and, while he could not see the boat go, he felt the dash and plunge and swiftness of it, and he wept when they told him his boat had won the race.

He built the yacht Vigilant, Defender, Columbia, Reliance, that conquered the series of Shamrocks in the races for the American cup. He built up a great constructional industry. The government of his own country

HAVE YOU WEAK LUNGS?

Do colds settle on your chest or in your bronchial tubes? Do coughs hang on, or are you subject to throat troubles?

Such troubles should have immediate treatment with the strengthening powers of Scott's Emulsion to guard against consumption which so easily follows.

Scott's Emulsion contains pure cod liver oil which peculiarly strengthens the respiratory tract and improves the quality of the blood; the glycerine in it soothes and heals the tender membranes of the throat. Scott's is prescribed by the best specialists. You can get it at any drug store.

went to him for torpedo boats. The fame of the blind designer of fast boats spread round the world and England, Russia and Italy gave him contracts for their fastest torpedo boats. He died a few days ago, a wealthy man, for he had stuck to his boyhood's dream and achieved it fully.

A Profitable Vacation.

In the August Woman's Home Companion appears an account of a husband who recently spent $375 in travel. From the standpoint of culture the travel probably did not do him any good, but from it he gained one thing of importance—a better appreciation of his home. Following is an extract from article:

"He and she had reached that state of mutual boredom that comes some times to people who have lived too close together and know each other too well. It seemed before he left as though they could not go on together, and she knew him leave without regret. But to her surprise the place seemed very lonesome after he had gone; and to his surprise he found himself roaming hotel corridors restlessly vaguely yearning for the companionship that had so long been his life. And when at last he came home it was to discover that his home was the neatest, her cooking the finest, and she herself the most beautiful woman in the world. 'We sometimes wish that the position of traveling salesman were not conferred on one man for life, but could be passed around, so that the lawyer, the doctor, and the preacher who have lived at home forever might each be separated from home at least once in a lifetime. It would add a wonderful freshness and zest to the comforts that too often become commonplace.'"
